VOLUME CVI.---NO 154. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 30, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

"Shut your eyes, open your mouth and see what luck will bring you."

Many a woman is weak and sick, nervous and discouraged. She suffers from headache, backache and other ills. She wants to be well, but all she does is to shut her eyes and open her mouth for medicine and trust to luck for results. She "doctors" month after month, often year after year, in this same blind, hap-hazard fashion, and receives no permanent benefit.

Women take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with their eyes open to the fact that it cures womanly ills. It cures irregularity, It dries debilitating drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. There is no trusting to luck by those who use "Favorite Prescription."

"In the year 1903 my health was poor," writes Mrs. J. Hack, of 242 Broadway, Buffalo, N. Y. "I suffered from falling of womb, a disagreeable discharge, painful monthly periods, headache, backache and pains in the limbs. Every month was confined to bed for two or three days. Was weak, nervous and hysterical; life was a burden to myself and I made every one in the family unhappy because I was so irritable. My husband got me four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and before I had taken the first bottle I was feeling some relief. The medicine made me well and strong, free from nervousness, aches and pain, and I felt like a new woman. Before I used the 'Favorite Prescription' I had been taking another physician's medicine for nearly three months, but had received no benefit. Your medicine is certainly the best in the world."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Don't let a selfish seller over-persuade you to accept a substitute for these Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated but never equaled.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Special Agents.

STRONG Again

is what Mrs. Lucy Stovall, of Tilton, Ga., said after taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hundreds of other weak women are being restored to perfect health by this remedy. YOU may be well if you will take it.

Indigestion causes nearly all the sickness that women have. It deprives the system of nourishment and the delicate organs peculiar to women suffer—weaken, and become diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all of the wholesome food that may be eaten. It nourishes the body, and rebuilds the weak organs, restoring health and strength. Kodol cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, sour risings, belching, heartburn and all stomach disorders.

Digests What You Eat

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION.

The Czar has declared a state of war in Odessa and vicinity and placed the district under military authority, which the revolutionary mobs defy.

Admiral Kruger, with what ships of the Black Sea squadron that are not in the hands of mutineers, has orders to sink the vessels held by the mutinous crews if not not surrendered. The squadron was delayed at Sebastopol, it is believed, by revolts among the crews. The ships sailed last night for Odessa.

The revolution is spreading among the Russian soldiers and sailors, and the spirit of rebellion is becoming manifest among even the troops in St. Petersburg.

The crew of a government transport on arrival at Odessa mutinied and turned over the officers in irons to the revolutionary crew of the battleship Kniaz Potemkin. The volunteer fleet cruiser Saratoff has been burned.

For 48 hours the city of Odessa has been the scene of carnage and destruction. Hundreds have been killed and wounded in the fighting between the troops and rioters. Wharf properties and vessels, including five Russian steamers, aggregating in value millions of dollars, have been burned. The hospitals are filled with the dying and wounded.

Certain important developements may be specified.

First, the terms of an extended Anglo-Japansse treaty have been definitely agreed upon. An announcement of their nature may be expected shortly.

Second, because of this and because she is confident that she may rely upon Japan to cancel all future Russian ambitions in the far East, Great Britain feels less unwilling to allow Russia to seek certain expansion in the near East with the object of holding back the German Emperor.

Third, Great Britain is taking the most active measures to concentrate her fighting strength very near home.

Fourth, the incoming regime in Russia is full of fear of the German ruler, since he has recently shown his hand, and is anxious to unite with France and England to check German aggression.

Fifth, plans to do this without creating a false impression in Germany that an aggressive anti-German coalition is coming into being are occupying the attention of the diplomatists of western Europe and other counties.

It requires some reading between the lines in order to appreciate the stupendous significance of the foregoing. What, for instance, is the meaning of the phrase "the incoming regime in Russia," and when may its advent be expected?

If the amazing drama at Odessa and the signs of military disaffection elsewhere mean anything, they signify that Russia's critical hour is close at hand. Will the Romanoff dynasty survive it, or is the present order of things to be swept away?

All is not chaos in the plans for saving this stricken nation. There are important factors at work, no hint of whose existence has reached the outside world. Peace with Japan, when it comes, will not be signed by the present Russian government, or, rather, it will be ratified by direct representatives of the Russian people.

To Meet on the Mayflower.

The peace negotiations between Russia and Japan are to be conducted in the cabin of a United States vessel. The gunboat Mayflower, which was formerly a yacht and which has been in the personal service of the President of the United States, is being put in order for the use of the plenipotentiaries.

This boat has been out of commission, but after the determination to conduct the peace negotiations at Washington it was ordered again into commission, and Commander Cameron McRae Winslow, naval aide to the President, at present stationed in the Bureau of Navigation, has been ordered to take command during the peace negotiations. The purpose of this is to insure the secrecy which is desired by the representatives of each of the belligerent powers.

No details of the arrangements for the meeting can be learned from official sources, but the President has placed the Mayflower at the disposal of the plenipotentiaries, the understanding being that their meetings will be held in the sumptuously furnished cabin of that vessel. It will be a matter to be determined at their own pleasure whether the boat shall lie at the wharf at the navy yard in the Potomac or cruise in the river and bay while the plenipotentiaries are constructively at Washington. It is expected that if, on account of hot weather, the plenipotentiaries conclude to go to Newport or some other northern resort, they will be taken there in the Mayflower and will then be enabled to continue holding their meetings aboard the vessel. It is believed that this arrangement will add to the comfort of the peace negotiators, as well as to their security against intrusion and the disclosure of their secrets, it being impossible for any unauthorized person to get aboard of the boat.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MRS. FOX'S LETTER

In All Parts of the United States Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for a long time with womb trouble, and finally was told by my physician that I had a tumor on the womb. I did not want to submit to an operation, so wrote you for advice. I received your letter and did as you told me, and to-day I am completely cured. My doctor says the tumor has disappeared, and I am once more a well woman. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

NOTICE TO CITY TAXPAYERS.

Collector's Office, June 19, 1905.

Notice is hereby given that the tax bills for 1905 are now in the hands of the collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called the following extract from the revenue bill of that year:

Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1905, the Collector of Taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent, and on all bills paid by the 1st day of September, 1905, he shall allow a discount of five per cent, and on all bills not paid on the 1st day of December, 1905, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of January, 1906, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid.

Taxpayers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.

Bring a list to make sure you get bills for all your property, as the collector will not be responsible or allow the discount after the time fixed by law.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 30, 1905.

It is idle to deny that the affairs on the Isthmus of Panama are in a chaotic condition and that the American people must realize that they are now face to face with a condition that will require all the pluck and all the indomitable energy of this nation to meet and to overcome. The resignation of Chief Engineer Wallace has served the good purpose of bringing to light the actual condition of affairs. Up to the present time it has been believed that the danger of yellow fever was the principal obstacle to the digging of the canal. Now it seems that the mere sanitary condition of the isthmus, deplorable as it is, is the least of the troubles. For two years the American people have believed that the work of digging the great isthmian canal was in progress. It appears now that nothing has been done. Millions of dollars have been spent, and the distressing truth is now apparent that the engineers have not yet even decided whether the canal shall be a lock canal or a sea-level canal. Until this question is decided all engineering plans must be held in obeyance. When it will be decided apparently no one can tell. Commenting upon the canal matter the Philadelphia Record says:

While Chief Engineer Wallace declines to speak of the reasons which caused him to tender his resignation from the Panama Canal Commission, it is not beyond the ability of an ordinarily intelligent person to make a pretty accurate guess. Up to the time when President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft backed water, under pressure from the "stand-patters" and the tariff-protected trusts, all was serene in the canal commission; the canal was to be finished off-hand, we were told, and well within the limit of the estimated cost. The veto by the tariff grafters of the President's order that ships, supplies machinery and constructiou material for the canal work should be purchased in the cheapest market appears to have been responsible for the present disharmony in the once happy Panama family. The immediate consequence of the backdown was the complete demoralization of Engineer Wallace's field force, which had already been hampered by the order respecting the enforcement at Panama of the eight-hour law and the delay, due to departmental red tape, in the proper sanitation of the isthmus. The effect of these conditions on the progress of the work appears from the summary from the daily reports from the field for the month of May. In the latter month only 70,000 cubic yards of excavation was completed, as against 258,372 for March and April. The total number of cubic yards to be excavated is 100,000,000, and at the rate of progress during May over one hundred years would be required to complete the work. The labor cost per cubic yard during May was over one dollar. If the cost of administration had been added and allowance made for deterioration the figure would have been nearer two dollars per cubic yard. In the estimates it is assumed that excavation would not exceed in cost fifty cents per cubic yard. On the basis of the May reports the cost of the canal would be three or four times the amount estimated, or from $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 instead of $250,000,000. It is a wonder that an engineer with a reputation to lose prefers to resign rather than to go on under such harassing conditions? It is impossible to conduct a great public work economically and efficiently unless graft shall be entirely eliminated. This is true whether the work be a municipal filtration plant or a national canal; whether the grafters be machine contractors or tariff beneficiaries. For the extra profit exacted by the trusts in the sale of machinery and material to the government is graft none the less because such extra profit is sanctioned by a robber tariff. The Panama canal cannot be built within the estimated limit of cost by a republican administration unless the party shall divorce itself from the "stand patters" and abandon their policy of looting the treasury and fleecing the public under the pretext of extending protection to American industries.

Thomas W. Lawson, in this month's instalment of his story, "Frenzied Finance," says H. H. Rogers tried to keep from him $7,000,000 of his share of the profits of the notorious Amalgamated Copper deal. He actually did cut him out of about $4,000,000 in the final division of the spoils, he says, while his share, he adds, should have been at least nine million. The two met in Mr. Rogers' office in the Standard Oil Building. Mr. Lawson says he was prepared to look for real deviltry. Mr. Rogers produced a slip of paper and handed it to Mr. Lawson, saying, "There's our account." Mr. Lawson says:

I turned to the paper, and at the first glance I caught the balance. It was a little less than two millions and a half. At once the other lines upon the sheet became crimson blur. I fiercely asseverated to myself: 'I must be cool; I must, I must.' But all my resolutions went as goes the powder when touched by the match. I sprang to my feet, kicked over the chair and stuck the paper under Mr. Rogers' eyes. Suddenly I became conscious that I was saying: 'Am I to understand that this is final? Is this what I get for my cursed work? No, by——, no.' I sprang between him and the door. 'Lawson, stop for a second,' he said; 'there is some mistake; some terrible blunder that they have made upstairs. Give me that paper, and I'll take it to Mr. Rockefeller. He will see what is wrong.' I handed him the paper. He was out of the room instantly. Suddenly the door knob clicked, and I jumped to my feet to admit Mr. Rogers. In his hand was the paper. It was the same sheet, the same word 'balance,' but underneath the old figures was a line, below which appeared a new set of ciphers, showing just a fraction under five million of dollars. In the brief interval of minutes my balance had doubled.

And this is a fair sample of the financial dealings in Wall street.

The high-handed acts of mutinous Russian sailors of the Black Sea fleet are causing grave anxiety not only to Russia but to the thoughtful in other countries. It has been more than a century since any nation has had to deal with such an issue. English men-of-war have on one or two occasions been seized by mutineers, but, rash as were such procedures, the actors never bombarded English towns, but showed their inborn patriotism by firing salutes on national holidays. The Russian mutineers, on the contrary, have destroyed millions of dollars' worth of Russian property and are vieing with insurrectionists in terrorizing their own country. The outcome of all this is awaited with interest. Should the Czar be compelled to compromise with the mutineers and the latter escape the halter, or should the Russian autocracy be overthrown, the example of the outlaws may be followed by sailors of other countries, and mutinies may become as common as strikes are now. There is also another serious international phase to the trouble. Merchant ships of all nations are in the Black Sea, Odessa being an important shipping port. In order to protect their interests other powers may be compelled to send their warships through the Dardanelles whether it meets with Turkey's approval or not.

It is suggested that after the lavatories have been constructed at the police station and the three sergeants have been duly installed, that still a new office be created—Knight Commander of the Bath.

Washington, D. C., June 30.

Secretary of War Taft and the party that will accompany him on his visit to the Phillipines will leave here this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock on their way to San Francisco, which city they expect to reach at 6:50 p. m. on July 4th. Crossing the Pacific on the steamer Manchuria the party will stop a couple of days in Hawaii, three days in Japan and nearly a month in the Phillipine islands. Elaborate preparations are being made at each stopping place for the entertainment of the visitors. At San Francisco there will be excursions, banquets and receptions. At Honolulu arrangements have been made for an interesting trip about the islands At Yokohama the official party of the secretary will be taken in the royal yachts of the Mikado to Tokio for a three days visit at the palace. Then going by way of Kobe and Nagasaki they are expected to reach Manila August 6th. A week there filled with entertainments will be followed by a two week's trip by steamer among the islands of the archipelago, during which stops will be made at all the principal ports. From the social point of view therefore the trip will be a most interesting one and it is not remarkable that there has been almost unprecedented pressure brought to bear from women in society to obtain invitations to accompany the party. Miss Alice Roosevelt is, of course, the most prominent of the lady guests. She will be accompanied by her special friends, Miss Mabel Boardman, Miss Amy McMillan, and Miss Helen Patten. A number of prominent members of the Senate and House with their wives ard among the party. Every member of the party with the exception of Sec. Taft's official staff will pay his own expenses with the exception of that for transportation. It is estimate that it will cost each one not less than $500. There are a number of very important questions demanding Secretary Taft's visit to the Philippines at this time and it will be no means a junket for him, no matter what it may be for the other members of his party. By taking with him a number of the members of Congress he hopes to secure more liberal legislation for the Phillipines next winter, because he is of opinion that a personal investigation of the conditions thereby Senators and Representatives will reinforce his own views as to what should be done more than a whole lot of argument. The present internal revenue laws, transportation, church matters and the political situation generally of the islands will be examined into.

John F. Stevens, former vice president of the Rock Island Railroad, and the man who built the mountain section of the Great Northern Railroad, has been appointed chief engineer of the Panama canal to succeed John F. Wallace. Mr. Stevens is the railroad expert who was to have accompanied Secretary Taft to the Philippines, but gives up this trip in the interests of the canal. The home of the new engineer is in Chicago. Mr. Stevens will not be made a member of the canal commission. His duties will be confined exclusively to those of chief engineer. His salary will be $30,000 a year. In appointing Mr. Stevens as chief engineer without making him a member of the canal commission certain false notions have been swept away which were connected with Mr. Wallace's position. Mr. Stevens will be an employee of the commission and he has accepted his appointment with that understanding. He will be made general manager of the Panama Railroad and will report as such to its President, Mr. Shonts. As chief engineer he will report to the commission which is largely composed of engineers. No decision has yet been made as to the appointment of a new member of the canal commission to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mr. Wallace. The place which Mr. Stevens was about to occupy as general supervisor on behalf of the government of the construction of the railroads in the Philippines has been offered to W. A. Darling, of the Rock Island system.

Secretary Taft today had a conference with representatives of the Columbian government regarding the re-establishment of friendly relations between that country and the republic of Panama, as well as the renewal of friendly relations between Columbia and the United States. Columbia wants Panama to undertake the payment of a part of her foreign debt and certain representation along this line were made this morning. Panama is willing to assume her proportion but thinks it should be calculated according to population. No conclusions were reached at this morning's meeting. Final negotiations regarding the matter have been postponed until about the first of October.

The Panama canal office in this city today received a cable report from Civil Governor Magoon, of the canal zone, of an additional case of yellow fever.

A new style sword, specially designed for effective cut and thrust work, will take the place of the sword now used by officers of the United States army. At the instance of President Roosevelt the general staff of the army, in a voluminous report to the Secretary of War, has recommended a sword of entirely new pattern which, it is believed, will be the most effective weapon of its kind ever designed.

W. A. Darling, of the Rock Island system, has been offered the position of supervisor of the railway construction in the Philipines, made vacant by the selection of John F. Stevens as chief engineer of the Panama canal.

The Postmaster General this afternoon signed an order granting to all rural free delivery carriers throughout the United States a full holiday on the Fourth of July.

News of the Day.

For the fiscal year ending today the shortage in the Treasury is nearly $25,000,000.

The Merchants' Distillery was destroyed by fire in Terre Haute, Ind., yesterday. The loss estimated at $800,000 to $400,000 is fully insured.

The Yale eight won the four-mile race from Harvard yesterday evening after probably the most exciting contest in the history of the intercollege regattas.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday, to George Hollis and Mary V. Coleman, both of Manassas, and to Samuel C. Stewart, of New York city, and Rue M. Griffith, of Front Royal.

Richard Tasker Lowndes, son of the late ex-Gov. Lloyd Lowndes of Maryland and twin brother of Lloyd Lowndes, jr., died suddenly yesterday afternoon at Clarksburg, W. Va., where he resided, while undergoing an operation for blood-poisoning.

It is stated that the recent Mentor wreck will cost the Lake Shore Railroad $355,000. As a result of the wreck two insurance companies have disbursed to heirs of the dead $226,000. Of this $100,000 was paid on life policies and $166,000 on accident policies.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Grannis, the woman suffrage and social purity advocate, has been asked to withdraw from the First Church of the Disciples of Christ, New York, after making charges against the pastor which the congregation, by vote, declared unfounded. She says she will attend the church.

Edward Green about 25 years old, who was convicted by a jury in Judge Gould's court in Washington on Monday last of assaulting a 13-year-old girl and was in jail awaiting sentence, hanged himself in his cell at the District jail yesterday. Green used a towel and a handkerchief, tying them to one of the bars and strangling himself.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Mrs. Roland Stewart, aged 35, was found dead in a water tank at Lonaconing, Md., this morning. It is supposed that she was murdered and the body thrown into the tank. She leaves a husband and three children.

In absence of Archbishop Ryan, of that diocese, who is abroad on his pontificial visit to Rome, Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, will dedicate the new St. Peter's Catholic Church in Reading, Pa., on Sunday. The church is one of the most magnificant in the diocese.

The attorneys of Mrs. Kate Edwards, in Reading, Pa., who was doomed to the gallows by Wednesday's action of the Pardon Board, have about decided to take her case to the State Supreme Court, as a last resort. Mrs. Edwards' case has never been before that tribunal.

Scores Wallace.

Charging him with changing his position overnight "for mere lucre," and with being influenced "solely by personal advantage," Secretary Taft, in his conference in New York on June 26 with John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal, after administering a severe rebuke to him, requested his resignation on the ground that "public interest requires that you tender your resignation at this moment and turn over the records of your office to the chairman of the commission." Secretary Taft accuses Wallace of being thoroughly selfish and unpatriotic in leaving government in the lurch by resigning the position he had sought at his own salary just when the plans he himself had largely arranged were to be carried out, and says Wallace is false to every principle of honor and duty. Mr. Wallace may have his inning later.

The statement issued last night concludes with the President's letter to Mr. Wallace written at Cambridge, Mass., June 28th, which letter reads:

"Your resignation as member and chief engineer of the Isthmian Canal Commission tendered in accordance with the request of Secretary Taft, which request under the circumstances has my entire approval, is hereby accepted to take effect immediately."

B. F. Vaughan a Suicide.

B. Frank Vaughan, an old citizen of Portsmouth, shot himself through the head in the smoking-room of the Norfolk and Portsmouth ferry in Norfolk yesterday morning. He expired within a few minutes after firing the fatal shot and before his family could reach him. A few minutes before he committed the deed Mr. Vaughan cast his vote in the democratic primary, remarking to his friend at the polls that it was the last time he would ever cast a ballot. He had been in ill health for a long time, and his discharge from his employment as delivery clerk of the Baltimore Steam Packet Company, which he had held for 30 years, would have become effective today. On his way to his last day's work Mr. Vaughan evidently decided that he would end his life before he did his employment.

Virginia News.

News has reached Richmond of the death in King William county of William D. Adkins, chief of the Chickahominy tribe of Indians.

Frank Williams, alias Ohio Hump, was in the United States Court in Norfolk yesterday, found guilty of robbing the postoffice at Port Norfolk, June 16, of last year.

John Ray, one of the leading business men of Winchester, and a widower, was married Wednesday night to Miss Virginia Smith, daughter of the late Capt. Edward Smith.

Farmers and cattlemen throughout the Winchester section are alarmed over the appearance of a peculiar disease among cattle that has caused many head of fine stock to go blind.

Washington Tazewell Capps, 76 years old, father of Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Répair in the Navy Department, at Washington, died at Norfolk yesterday.

Col. Robert A. Marr, professor of engineering at the Virginia Military Institute, has been offered the deanship of the engineering department of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, to succeed the late Col. William M. Patton. Colonel Marr has the offer under consideration.

The body of Miss Mary Rogers, who committed suicide by drowning at Saranac Lake, N. Y., is being removed to her home at Leesburg, the train having left Saranac at 8:45 o'clock last night. The funeral will take place at Leesburg tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Morris, of St. James' Protestant Episcopal Church.

Judge R. Carter Scott, of the Circuit Court of Henrico, yesterday refused a new trial to Austin Johnson, who was sentenced to hang July 20 for attempted criminal assault, but extended the time to September 25, in order that counsel might have time to take the matter before the Supreme Court. Johnson addressed the court at length in his own behalf, declaring that he was innocent and the witnesses were in conspiracy against him.

Dr. Joseph W. Southall, superintendent of public instruction, yesterday morning appointed Judge David A. Christian, of Appomattox, to the position of second clerk and statistician, which was made vacant by the recent removal of John A. McGilvray, from that office. Judge Christian is widely known throughout the State and was for several terms judge of the County Court of Appomattox.

At a meeting of the Joe Kendall Camp, Confederate Veterans, at Warrenton this week, the date of the annual reunion was fixed for Saturday, August 12. It was decided to secure a speaker to address the August meeting in behalf of the Gen. William Smith memorial, for which a considerable sum has already been contributed. Other addresses will be made by Dr. Henry Cochrane, M. M. Green and Major R. A. McIntyre.

Miss Annie Lee Ball, daughter of the late George Ball, of Loudoun, was married on Wednesday afternoon to Mr. Harry Ball, of Newport News, by Rev. Dr. J. W. Norris, of St. James Protestant Episcopal Church, at Goresville. The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Ball, a sister of the bride, and the groom's best man was Rodney Ball, of Purcellville. The ushers were Howell Lightfoot, Harvey Ball, Adie Ball and Carrol Paxson, of Purcellville. After a short bridal tour North Mr. and Mrs. Ball will reside at Alexandria.

Very unfavorable to the prisoner was the evidence presented yesterday before the Manchester Hustings Court in the case of Mrs. Shepherd K. Smith, now on trial for her life on the charge of having beaten to death her son Ralph. Mrs. Smith sat between her mother, Mrs. Charles Townsend, and her brother, Dr. Wisner R. Townsend, the distinguished New York surgeon. The gist of the testimony was that the child had been unmercifully beaten. The contention of the defense is that he was whipped to cure him of evil habits, but with no intention of causing his death.

THE EUROPEAN CRISIS.

It is now impossible to outline some of the far-reaching effects of Germany's sensational diplomatic attacks on France and the Emperor's other attempts to take advantage of Russia's impotence in Europe. The sharp check put upon German aggression was due chiefly to British initiative. The prompt and substantial success which has already attended the English efforts in this direction constitute one of the most remarkable accomplishments of modern diplomacy.

The German-French crisis is by no means settled, but the German attitude has already changed from provocative aggression to moderate conciliation. Fresh retaliation may yet come from Berlin, but it is the present view in diplomatic circles outside of Germany that the Emperor has overreached himself, that he has alarmed the nations and aroused the greater part of the world against him to little purpose. Never has the machinery of European diplomacy so active as now, and the sole object of international endeavor seems to be to devise an effective plan to restrain the vaulting ambition of the German Emperor.

Should the Russian naval forces be unable to restore order and put down the mutiny in the fleet the foreign consuls will ask their respective governments to dispatch warships to Odessa.

The elected mayors of the large Russian cities have declared boldly for a constitution, and the zemstvo of St. Petersburg and Moscow have decided to notify the Czar that unless the promised reforms are promulgated by the middle of July they will declare a constitutional government.

Ambassador Meyer, at St. Petersburg, cables that the Czar has ordered the mobilization of between 100,000 and 200,000 troops presumably for service in the far East, but in Washington it is believed the reinforcements are to be used to cope with the spreading internal troubles.

Officials in Washington are inclined to believe the situation in Russia has already assumed the proportions of a general revolution.

Russian sailors at Libau mutinied and attacked the officers' quarters after seizing arms.

In Mad Chase.

Millions rush in mad chase after health, from one extreme of faddism to another, when, if they would only eat good food, and keep their bowels regular with Dr. King's New Safe Pills their troubles would all pass away. Prompt relief and quick cure for liver and stomach trouble, 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons drug store; guaranteed.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Russian Revolution.

London, June 30.—The latest report from Russia, which is extremely significant, if true, is to the effect that at Kronstadt, another of Russia's great naval stations, 8,000 soilors, together with the workmen of the port and on the docks, have suddenly quit work and practically a state of mutiny exists there. The best evidence that the revolt is serious comes from the sudden announcement made this morning that the plans of the Bouligan commission for a representative assembly are to be approved immediately. The situation just at present seems to hinge on just one point, and that is the loyalty of the army to the emperor, which is believed to be doubtful. Reports coming from Odessa, via Vienna, says that the troops are fraternizing with the mutineers and the fear is expressed in St. Petersburg that the army is as honeycombed with disaffection as the navy has shown itself to be.

Odessa, June 30.—There is a temporary lull in the rioting and the city just at present is quiet. How long this condition will continue is a question, however, which cannot be answered. The strikers are by no means overawed and have only been cowed for the moment by the presence of a large number of troops armed with machine guns. The bombardment last night by the Kniaz Potemkin did little damage in the city. Only a few shots were fired and these did little harm except to two buildings, which were struck by the shells. The reason for the bombardment was that the sailors thought an attack had been made on their comrades who were sent ashore to conduct the funeral of Omilchuck, the sailor whose death led to the mutiny on board the warship. The firing ceased as soon as it was learned that the funeral had not been interfered with. The warship still has her guns pointed toward the city, however, and is a constant menace. The strikers and mutineers are determined to utilize the battleship, which is their main reliance. Formal notice was served today on the commandant of the troops that if there is a renewal of the massacre of the people by the soldiers, the bombardment will be renewed and continued until the soldiers are driven from the city. The strikers are open in their threats to burn the entire town and say they will accomplish this under the protection of the great guns of the Kniaz Potemkin if necessary.

The foreign ships in the harbor during the course of last night managed to clear and are now lying an anchor in the roadstead close by the breakwater ready to put to sea at a moment's notice in case the bombardment is renewed or if a naval battle between the Kniaz Potemkin and the vessels of Vice Admiral Kruger's fleet, which is known to be on its way to Odessa, begins in the harbor.

The use of machine guns yesterday by the troops had good effect upon the strikers in quietiug them and during the night only a few isolated riots occurred. Wherever a demonstration was attempted however, the machine guns were used with terrible effect, the strikers being moved down without pity. The strikers have learned a lesson from this, and no demonstrations have been attempted this morning up to this writing. It is hardly likely, however, that the day will pass without a renewal of the fighting. If the mutineers on the Kniaz Potemkin fullfill their threat to bombard the city in case the soldiers again fire on the people a terrible conflict is certain to result.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—An unconfirmed report has reached here from Odessa to the effect that the rioters have burned the volunteer cruiser Saratoff.

Odessa, Russia, June 30.—It is reported that a part of the Black Sea fleet under the command of Vice Admiral Kruger is approaching the city, although the vessels are still some miles away. The greatest excitement has been created by this report and fears are expressed as to what will come to pass, when the fleet arrives. Vice Admiral Kruger's orders are to call upon the Kniaz Potemkin to surrender and in case of the refusal of the crew to obey this order, to sink the battleship. If an attempt is made to carry out this programme a naval engagement between the rebellious battleship and the rest of the fleet is certain to occur.

Extreme doubt is felt, however, as to the ability of Vice Admiral Kruger to make his sailors fire on their comrades on the Kniaz Potemkin. It is generally believed that the crews of the other warships will rather join in the mutiny. The allegiance of the Black Sea sailors has been questioned frequently. What they will do in the crisis which will face them when they arrive here is problematical.

The vessels which are expected to arrive in the fleet are the Sveitatelia the Dvienadsat, Apostoloff, the Rostislau, and Sinche, all of which are battleships, the cruiser Kasgari and several torpedo boats.

At midnight the Kniaz Potemkin established a blockade of the harbor and no vessels floating the Russian flag are allowed to enter or leave the port. Six steamers which attempted to leave were stopped by the battleship and now lie at anchor under her guns.

Bucharest, Romania, June 30.—A message received here from Kishineff, says that a general strike has been declared in that town. Cossocks have seized the place and are patrolling the streets to prevent the strikers from committing outrages. General Czernolucki, chief of the Bessarabian gendarmerie, was assassinated in his home yesterday.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—The government has received word from Odessa that the military has succeeded in getting the upper hand over the strikers. The city authorities, however, express fear lest the rioting shall be renewed at any moment.

Libau, Russia, June 30.—A strong force of infantry, reinforced by machine guns, is besieging 4,000 mutinous sailors on the post of Alexandra III, located here in a small wood near the port. Fighting between the rebels and the troops has been in progress for some time, but the outcome is unknown. The mutiny started Tuesday night, in the revolt of the First Equipage, the name applied to the naval units, against the bad food served the sailors.

The sixth, ninth, thirteenth, and fifteenth equipage joined the mutiny, making 5,000 men in all. Of these 1,000 have since surrendered. The remainder are fighting the troops sent to subdue them. The sailors wrecked the barracks and then attacked the officers' quarters. They seized the government stores and secured arms and ammunition. Early Wednesday morning troops arrived on the scene and began a systematic attack on the mutinous sailors, who have been gradually driven back into the forest, and surrounded. The firing from the direction of the forest has been incessant, the mutineers defending themselves desperately. Volleys and scattering shots are heard at frequent intervals interrupted by the hum of the machine guns. The police have forced the people off the streets and to keep away from the ports so that it is impossible to state how the battle has gone.

St. Petersburg, June 30.—A code telegram which just arrived from Libau says that up to last night over 300 casualties had occured in the fighting between the troops and mutinous sailors. A large number of mutineers have been arrested in spite of a desperate effort made by their companions to liberate them. A wild report is in circulation here to the effect that the revolutionists are getting the upper hand in the bloody struggle, and will soon have control of the whole city. There is no confirmation of the rumor, however, and the censor refuses to allow telegrams giving any particulars of the fighting to pass.

The censor has prohibited the publication of any news regarding the revolt at Odessa, and complete silence is maintained by the press. The people, however, are kept well informed, the news being passed from one person to another.

Reports from Vosges, government of Kherson, where there have been minor riots say that the strike of workingmen there is still going on. Many of the workingmen have gone to the country or have left the district seeking work rather than to return to their old positions. The town is like a military camp. Troops are quartered in the houses and are also encamped in the streets.

During a meeting of the Nijui-Novgorod zemvstvo in session yesterday a citizen rose and made a lengthy speech, favoring reforms. He was wildly applauded, and at the conclusion of his speech, there were cries of "Down with autocracy."

London, June 30.—Lloyds have a dispatch received this afternoon from Odessa, which says: "Situation very reassuring."

Washington, D. C., June 30.—Ambassador Meyer cables the State Department from St. Petersburg under date of June 30, 6:07 a. m. to the effect that he has just received a dispatch from Consul Heenan at Odessa, stating that 500 rioters have been killed at that point, and that the harbor front has been destroyed by fire. The battleship Potemkin was firing on the town at the time he sent the dispatch. The fleet of Admiral Kruger had not arrived at Odessa at 9 p.m. of the 29. The State Department also received the following dispatch from Consul Heenan direct:

"Odessa, June 29. (6:11 p. m.)—Battleship firing on town. No fleet.

"Odessa, June 29 (10:10 p. m.)—Six officers of the Potemkin killed, eight liberated here. Remainder prisoners. Fleet has not arrived. Odessa harbor largely destroyed by fire. 50 rioters killed. Many Russian steamers burned. Battleship has remained quiet."

[This second dispatch was apparently held up at Odessa before transmission.]

KNIAZ POTEMKIN SURRENDERS.

Washington, June 30.—The battleship Kniaz Potemkin, which was recently seized by mutineers, has surrendered to the Black Sea fleet, under command of Admiral Kruger.

This information comes from the American consul at Odessa.

Married by Unitarian Clergyman.

Boston, June 30.—Agnes Boyle O'Reilly, a daughter of John Boyle O'Reilly, the Irish patriot and author, was marred at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning to William Ernest Hocking, a professor of philosophy at Phillips Andover Academy, by Rev. Samuel McCrothers, D. D., a Unitarian clergyman of Cambridge. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, in Brookline. None of the bride's family was present except one sister. Miss O'Reilly was a devout Catholic, but there were some things in the ritual that she could not be reconciled to, and when the time of her marriage drew near, she went to Archbishop Williams, and explained why she did not believe in all of the Catholic faith. The Archbishop told her that unless she would sign a document stating that she would bring up her children in the pure Catholic faith, he would not permit a Catholic priest to perform her marriage ceremony. Miss O'Reilly refused to sign, and sadly left the faith she and her family had adhered to so closely.

Strike of Farm Hands.

Buda Pest, June 30.—A revolt on the part of striking farm hands has occurred in the district east of the Danube river. The strikers demand an increase in their pay which is now fifteen cents a day, and 10,000 farm hands have struck to enforce the demands.

In the neighborhood of Tamasi, thousands of the strikers are marching through the country destroying the crops and burning property. The police in one encounter with the strikers fired on them, killing twenty-five.

A judge at Tamasi has sentenced 900 of the strikers to fine and imprisonment for breaking their contract with their employers. Laborers to the number of 1,300 have been sent to the estate of the Archduke Frederick to replace the strikers.

Arrival of Admiral Sigsbee's Fleet.

Cherbourg, June 30.—The fleet of Admiral Sigsbee which will convey the remains of John Paul Jones to America, arrived early this morning. Admiral Sigsbee telegraphed to the American consul yesterday in passing Cape Scilly that he would arrive today and a careful watch had been kept all night for the fleet. As the American vessels came into port the batteries on the land saluted them and the vessels returned the salute. Commander Roy Smith, the American naval attache, arrived here yesterday from Paris, and conferred with Admiral Besson in regard to the reception to be given the American squadron. The arrangements for the ceremonies in connection with the removal of the body from Paris are in the hands of committees in the capital.

The President at Oyster Bay.

No Joint Debate.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., June 30.—Chances of a joint debate at King George between Senator Martin and Governor Montague are waning, as owing to unsatisfactory terms following the suggestion, neither will taking the initiative. All the State candidates are to be there.

The city committee tonight will arrange to pay the expenses of the State primary in Richmond.

Royal Arcanum Affairs.

Boston, June 30.—The executive committee of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum yesterday drew out $153,000 of the gilt edged securities, which constitute part of the emergency fund in the custody of State Treasurer Chapin. The money was drawn, members of the committee state, because mortuary funds were "getting low." Under present conditions, according to the Supreme Auditor, a return of this withdrawal is extremely unlikely. The securities were sold yesterday to a New York banker by Supreme Treasurer E. A. Skinner. Who the banker was and how much he paid is not given out. The state treasurer still holds $1,701,000 of Arcanum funds.

Million-Dollar Bequest.

New York, June 30.—A ten million dollar gift by John D. Rockefeller was announced this afternoon. It was given to the general education board, of which Robert C. Ogden, is chairman. The fund is to be an endowment for higher education in the United States. The gift has been accepted and it is stated that Mr. Rockefeller contemplates further large gifts for this purpose.

Secretary Hay's Condition.

Newbury, N. H., June 30.—Secretary of State Hay passed a restful night and there is no apparent change in his condition. Dr. Murphy, of Boston, and the nurse are in constant attendance. The cold weather of the past few days has not been favorable, but it is much warmer this morning.

Execution of a Murderer.

Michigan City, Ind., June 30.—Berkley Smith, colored, was hanged here at 12:10 this morning, for the murder of his wife in Indianapolis. Smith marched from the death chamber to the gallows and took his position upon the trap with no apparent show of trepidation.

Satisfactory Negotiations.

Paris, June 30.—It is officially announced that at the meeting of the council of ministers today Premier Rouvier told the cabinet that the negotiations with Germany in regard to the Moroccan question are proceeding satisfactorily.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 30.—There were declines in the international stocks at the opening under pressure from London arbitrage brokers selling 20,000 shares in the first hour. After the early loans of call money were made at four per cent., the market became strong in spots.

In answer to a question which the prosecuting witness, Miss Mary Tyson, considered impertinent, the question being, "As a matter of fact, were you not drunk at the time of the alleged assault?" Attorney Joseph L. McAllister received a resounding slap in the face yesterday afternoon as he was participating in the hearing of a case in the courtroom of the Southern Police Station, in Baltimore.

Story of Greatest of History's Battles

The battle of Mukden, fought in Manchuria in March of this year, was the greatest conflict in the history of the world. There were engaged in it over 700,000 men, and the Russian army fled before the victorious Japanese. The Russians lost 200,000 men.

The only history yet published of this great combat has just been written. It is told by Francis McCullagh, a correspondent, who went into the battle with the Russian forces, and was captured during the fight by the Japanese.

Mr. McCullagh was an eye-witness of the battle from both sides, and, knowing the story, has written it well.

Mr. McCullagh's history has been secured for publication in Pennsylvania by the Philadelphia North American. It will be published in two instalments, and the first instalment of eight pages will appear as a special supplement added to the Sunday issue of the paper for July 2. It will be completed on July 9.

Colored Man Shot.

Doc Baltimore, a well-known colored man, was shot last night in James Doherty's saloon, corner of Princess and Pitt streets, by Henry Daniels, a white man. The bullet was intended for Policeman Bettis, but missed its mark and struck Baltimore. It seems that Daniels had been firing a pistol at the corner of Princess and Royal streets, and later entered the saloon and terrorized the inmates by flourishing the weapon and threatening to use it. Officer Bettis entered the place and started to arrest Daniels, who resisted. Mr. Bettis threw the man on some barrels and was aided by the proprietor in overpowering Daniels. While the latter was being held down and attempts made to secure the pistol Daniels endeavored to turn the muzzle of the pistol toward Mr. Bettis, and, supposing he had obtained the range, pulled the trigger. The weapon was discharged and the ball struck Baltimore on the abdomen, but glanced and inflicted nothing more serious than a flesh wound. Daniels was conducted to the station house and locked up. Baltimore was more scared than hurt. He supposed he had received a fatal wound and begged to be taken to the Alexandria Hospital. He was conducted thither and the nature of his wound being ascertained he was treated and later discharged. Daniels' was arraigned in the Police Court this morning and sent on to the grand jury. Daniels has several aliases. He has at times gone by the name of Howard. About two years ago he was arrested by Officers Bettis and Beach charged with deserting from the United States army. He was turned over to officers at Fort Myer, but later ran away one night under a fusilade of shots fired at him by the guard.

Shot by a Watchman.

During a fight on the wharf of the steamer River Queen, at the foot of Seventh street southwest, Washington, yesterday afternoon, Edwin Brockenborough, colored, a special watchman, shot William S. Simms, colored. The ball entered the negro's left side near the back. At the Emergency Hospital it was stated that the wound was serious and little hope is felt for Simms' recovery. The man's condition is so serious it would not permit an operation. Brockenborough claims he shot the man in self-defense, as Simms, during the affray, made a motion as though to pull a weapon from his hip pocket. Brockenborough had refused to allow Simms to go aboard the steamer, because, he claimed, he had stabbed another negro while on an excursion on the same steamer last year to Notley Hall. When Simms, who was accompanied by a negro woman, refused to get off the gangplank a fight began, in which the policeman used his pistol.

Lipscomb on the Stand.

Andrew A. Lipscomb, of the Washington bar, who is on trial in Criminial Court No. 1 of the District of Columbia, on a charge of embezzling nearly $16,000 of the funds of the Washington Beneficial Association, took the witness stand yesterday and testified in his own behalf.

Mr. Lipscomb made a specific denial of the accusation of embezzlement, emphatically declaring that he never received one penny of the receivership fund, except a fee and commissions amounting to $520. He placed all the blame for the misappropriation of the trust fund upon Thomas W. Fields, who was co-receiver with him of the association. Fields is already under conviction.

It is thought the taking of the evidence will be finished early today. The plan is to submit the case to the jury for determination prior to adjournment today.

The Foreign Cruisers.

The Italian cruiser Dogali, now at this port, will leave early next week for New York, where her commanding officer, Captain Rouca, who has been in command of the vessel for 15 months, will be relieved of his command by an officer now on the way from Italy. The French man-of-war Jurien de la Graviere is expected to arrive at Baltimore tomorrow or Sunday, remaining there until after July 4. The Jurien de la Graviere is of the protected cruiser type and was built in Lorient, France, in 1897. She is a triple screw vessel and her speed under forced draft is about 23 knots. It was reported that the vessel was to visit Washington, but no official announcement to this effect has been issued.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Henry Daniels, alias Howard, arrested by Officer Bettis charged with shooting Doc Baltimore, colored, was sent on to the grand jury.

A white man, arrested by Officers Mayhugh and Bell charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

U. S. Court.

The summer term of the U. S. Court, Judge Edmund Waddill, will open its session here on Monday next, but it is probable that little business will be done before Wednesday as Tuesday, July 4, is a holiday.

The criminal cases will be called and then the civil docket will be taken up. Witnesses in the Rixey libel suit case have been summoned for Tuesday, the 11th.

Funeral.

The remains of the late Robert Bruce, who was drowned at Clifton Beach on Sunday night last, were brought here today for interment. The funeral took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mr. Joseph Johnson, on south St. Asaph street. The services were conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter.

Cars Off Track.

Several cars loaded with coal ran off the track of the Washington-Southern Railway at Seminary station a short distance west of this city, yesterday. Some of the derailed cars were considerably damaged. Traffic on the road was impeded about three hours by the accident.

New Mail Schedule.

A new schedule of hours of service of the clerks and carriers in the city postoffice will be put into operation tomorrow morning. While the clerks will be required to report at the early hour of five in the morning, fewer hours will constitute a day's work and the new schedule provides for an exact hour for the day's work to end, which, hitherto, has not been the case. The appointment of an additional clerk and the earlier arrival of the present force will enable the carriers to leave the office for their first delivery at 7:30 a. m., instead of 8 o'clock, as at present. The appointment of an additional carrier has brought about a re-arrangement of the carriers' routes, whereby they have been materially shortened and while full delivery will not be abolished in any section now receiving it in outlying districts, north, south or west that have heretofore received their deliveries daily will receive but two, while the section lying north of the abandoned canal will receive but one, the time thus saved being devoted to collection from street boxes, some of which lately, owing to the heavy arrival in mail received for delivery by carriers, have gone without collection for sixteen or seventeen hours. By the new schedule three collections will be made in every section of the city and four over positively the entire city, while from the business district there will be no less than seven collections. Beginning at 7:15 p. m. there will be a collecton from the district bounded by Duke, Cameron and Payne streets and the river with loops to boxes at Washington and Queen, Union and Princess, Southern Railway station and Pitt and Wolfe streets. At 9:35 p. m. there will be a collection along King street from Alfred to Fairfax. This collection is intended principally to reach the two sub-stations. Patrons are requested not to be guided by time cards now in use on letter boxes, as they are all to be changed. Postmaster Crupper says in the re-arrangement of hours and territories he has had the help and sympathy of his entire force.

In addition to the appointments of an additional clerk and letter carrier, most of the present employees of the postoffice have had their pay advanced.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

A most enthusiastic meeting of the Jr. O. U. A. M. was held last evening. Alexandria Council, No. 33, met early in the evening and transacted its routine business. The semi-annual election of officers was held with the following result: C., Samuel Wade; V. C., O. H. Daniels; Rec. Sec., James R. Mansfield (15th year); Asst. Sec., J. W. Wills; Fin. Sec., F. C. Elliott; Treas., G. H. McArtor; Cond., W. J. Garrett; War., John Kimball; I. S., Julian Simpson; O. S, E. C. Reeves; Trustee, L. D. Lyles.

Belle Haven Council, of this city, Vienna, Dun Lorin and Fairfax Councils were then introduced and welcomed with honors of the order. Mr. L. D. Lyles, chairman of the entertainment committee, took charge, and an entertainment of addresses, readings, by Mr. O. F. Baggett; music by the Alexandria Ideal Musical Club, and piano selections by Mr. Samuel Wade. During the evening addresses were made by Messrs. E. L. S. Bouton and W. L. Wilmarth, of Vienna, and John E. Smallwood, of Washington, following which luncheon was served. The visitors returned to their homes late in the evening after having expressed themselves as highly pleased with the visit to Alexandria Council.

The Schools.

The closing exercises of the public schools were concluded last night when the pupils of Snowden and Hallowell schools, colored boys and girls, J. F. Parker and Bessie K. Spriggs, principals, respectively, held there exercises at Roberts Chapel. The church was crowded and an interesting programme was rended as follows: Prayer, by Rev. Colbert; songs, distribution of certificates; an address by Supt. Kemper, an address by Rev. Colbert and a benediction.

In the principal's grade of Snowden school the superintendent's medal was presented to Courtland H. Gaines and the following received certificates: Whitefield H. Brooks, Gladstone Peters, Herbert E Jones, Henry Burke and Herbert Lucas.

In the principal's grade of Hallowell school the superintendent's medal was presented to Mary Etta Lyles, and certificates were awarded to Hester Carter, Elizabeth Campbell, Maud Holmes, Mary Johnson, Elnora Jackson, Hattie Jackson, Lillie Jackson, Mary Etta Lyles, Alice Monday, Olive Madella Addie Smith, Olivia West, Grace Webb.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

City Council vs. C. B. Swann, appeal from a justice's decision and a case involving the right of merchants to use a part of the sidewalk for the display of goods; case dismissed. City Attorney Boothe asked that the case be dismissed, stating that an ordinance concerning this matter was now before the City Council for action.

Fairfax & Co. vs. Arthur McMahon, suggestion, vs. Reiter, Curtis & Hill; dismissed.

Geo. H. Sisemore vs. Southern Railway Co.; dismissed.

Baseball.

Another good game of ball was played on the old fair grounds yesterday evening between the Invincibles and the Virginias. Hayden pitched for the Virgias and Martin for the Invincibles. The score: Invincibles 13, Virginias 2. A good game is promised for this evening, commencing about 5:30, between the Orientals and the Del Rays. The Orientals have signed a Washington battery and Del Ray expects to have a new battery also. This should be an exciting game, as both teams are about evenly matched.

Consolidation.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Fidelity Savings and Trust Company, of Charlottesville, held on June 29th, this company decided to consolidate with the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation of Alexandria. The paid in capital of the Charlottesville Company is $50,000 and this consolidation will increase the paid in capital of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, of Alexandria, from $175,000 to $225,000.

Dog Licenses.

As only 650 dog licenses have been issued it is apparent that on every square in the city one or more dogs can be found for which no license has been paid. In fact the city is infested with scraggy and cwnerless curs, and it is thought by many that inasmuch as a score of years has elapsed since the dog cart made its appearance, it is about time for it to renew its rounds.

Personal.

Col. J. A. de Lagnel left today for Old Point to spend the summer.

Doctor William Rogers, who recently took his degrees at Georgetown College, has succesfully passed the examination before the State Board of Medical Examiners and will soon enter upon the practice of his profession. Dr. Rogers is a son of Mr. William Rogers, of this city.

Miss Helen Lucile Dolan returned home today after a month's stay in the mountains of Virginia, accompanied by her friend, Miss Grace McInturf.

Mr. Hayward D. Luckett, cashier in the Southern Railway office in this city, has tendered his resignation and will accept another position with the railway company. Mr. Hanson, who has also been employed in the office of the company in this city, has resigned. It is said that he will remove to Chicago.

Mr. A. T. Peak, lead hand at the Emerson Pump Co., will leave on Saturday evening for Philadelphia where he will be married on July 3.

Mr. Carey Davis, watchman at the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Works, was stricken with paralysis yesterday.

Mr. J. Randall Caton, of this city, was one of the ushers at the wedding in Pulaski, Wednesday, of his cousin, Miss Edna L. Fitzhugh, and Mr. George P. Grant.

The Eleventh Company U. S. Coast Artillery, which has been stationed at Fort Washington for the past few weeks, left today for Key West. Lieut Charles L. Fisher, of this city, is one of the officers of this company.

Railroad Improvements.

The main track of the Washington-Southern Railway between St. Asaph Junction and the new depot west of Alexandria has been laid, and cars and locomotives now pass over that portion of the new road. A force of about two hundred men are at work on the improvements adjoining this city.

For the Penitentiary.

A guard from the Richmond penitentiary came here on Wednesday evening and took back with him to that institution Alphonso Antonio, an Italian, and Wm. McKey, colored, both of whom were recently convicted of malicious shooting in this city.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Jennie Washington, colored, aged 35, died at her home, north of the old canal basin yesterday.

A baby carriage was stolen last night from the front of the residence of Mr. John Harden, on north Columbus street.

The tugboat Dauntless left here yesterday with the barges Virginia and Howard for Perryville to load ice for this port.

During this month the clerk of the Corporation Court has recorded 69 deeds and issued 45 marriage licenses—34 to white and 11 to colored persons.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, will sell at noon tomorrow in front of the Royal street entrance to the City Hall a dark bay horse, a rubber-tired buggy and a set of harness.

A fight occurred between two colored men near the intersection of Princess and Pitt streets about noon today. Officer Henderson appeared on the scene and took the combatants in custody.

Mr. F. A. Coakley will have for sale at his stand in the market tomorrow some fine home-grown tomatoes, cucumbers, cantaloupes and a fine lot of peaches.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles, "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons Druggist.

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I than God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

To Kiss His Wife Once Each Day.

"You are sentenced to spend one day a week with your wife and baby at Coney Island or Prospect Park, and you are further sentenced to kiss your wife once each day."

Magistrate Higginbotham in New York yesterday adopted this plan to settle the domestic difficulties of George Lindsay and his wife. The latter had her husband arrested on the charge of abandoning her and their baby.

It was after he had heard the wife's statement that the Magistrate passed the novel sentence. At the same time he directed him to report at the end of a month at which time, if Lindsay had failed to obey the Court's injunction, the magistrate promised to punish him.

In imposing the trips to Prospect Park or Coney Island he said.

"You are to accompany your wife and watch the baby play. Don't speak to each other. All you have to do is watch the baby play. You might also take your wife a bunch of flowers once a week so she can have something pleasant to look at. You are also directed to pay her $6 a week for four weeks."

The magistrate added a warning that mothers-in-law remain away from the Lindsay house.

Mix-up at Altar.

A triple wedding was celebrated at Pittsburg last week, when three sisters were married at the same time, and, after it was all over and a little figuring had been done, it was found that one of the sisters had become the niece of another. The brides are the daughters of well-known William McBride and wife, of Knoxville. One of the bridegrooms was the uncle of another, while the two younger men have been inseparable companions since boyhood. The contracting parties were Philip J. Rodgers, of Knoxville, and Agnes Gertrude McBride; Frank J. Rourke, of Mount Washington, and Esther Victoria McBride, and Louis C. Murray, of Homestead, and Emma Yourell McBride. Rodgers is the uncle of Rourke, while Rourke and Murray are the inseparables. They started to court the two sisters because they were always together. Then Rourke's uncle took such an interest in the welfare of his favorite nephew that he went along occasionally, and fell in love with the other daughter.

Cut Snake From Neck With Axe.

Lumberman R. W. A. Jameson, of Lock Haven, Pa., accompanied by R. V. Rogers, of Renovo, a lawyer, surveying on the mountains north of that place Monday, had an experience with a snake that caused their blood to run cold. These men are interested in some valuable timber land in that section, and were running lines over the tract. Rogers, becoming thirsty, wandered down the mountain in search of a spring. He had gone but a short distance when Jameson heard a loud cry. Hastening to his companion, he saw a large black snake coiling about his neck and body. Jameson carried a small axe with which to cut away the underbrush and mark the lines. With this he severed the head of the snake and rescued the lawyer. The snake measured more than five feet in length, and its body was as thick as a man's arm. Rogers says is was lying in his pathway, which was covered with underbrush, and he thought it was a dead limb of a fallen tree, until he stepped upon it and felt it twining about his body.

To Locate Fish.

According to Consul General Guenther, at Frankfort, Germany, a Norwegian has invented a telephone by which herring, cod and other deep water fish unconsciously call up the fishermen and announce that they are hanging around ready to be caught.

The instrument consists of a microphone in a hermetically sealed steel box, this being lowered into the water and connected with the fishing vessel by electric wires. All submarine noises are intensified by the microphone and may be overheard at the receiving instrument.

According to the inventor the presence of fish and approximately their number and kind may be distinguished. Herring, according to Mr. Guenther, "make a whistling noise, and the sound made by codfish is more like howling. If they approach the instrument, the flow of water through the gills produces a noise similar to the labored breathing of a quadruped and the motion of the fins produces a dull rolling sound."

Interested in Many Banks

A letter from Culpeper to the Richmond Times-Dispatch says: "There are three banks in the town—two national and the Farmers and Merchants, State bank, of which Mr. C. Jones Rixey is president. Mr. Rixey is also president of one of the national banks. Indeed, he has interests in as many banks as has almost any man in the country. In addition to being at the head of two banks here, he controls the Traders National Bank, of Washington; is practically the head of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, of Alexandria, capitalized at $1,000,000; the Jefferson National Bank, Charlottesville; the Fidelity Safe Deposit Company, Charlottesville; another at Little Washington, Rappahannock county, with various branch banks throughout the State. In addition, Mr. Rixey owns several farms, is fond of horses, to which he devotes a considerable portion of his time, and when a gentleman called to see him the other day, he was reading a novel. Yet he looks after his interests personally, and very closely."

Garter Snake Squeezed Her.

Mrs. D. Nothstein, wife of a village councilman of Claremont, Surry county, was out on her lawn pulling grass from about some flowers, when she suddenly felt a slight pressure on one side of her right ankle. Thinking it was a stick, she went on with her work, but the pressure increased and on lifting her skirt she was horrified to find a garter snake wrapped twice around her ankle. She aroused her household and the neighborhood by her Comanche-like screams, and kicking out vigorously she sent the snake flying. It scurried off to safety. The neighbors carried Mrs. Nothstein, who weighs 250 pounds, into the house and called a physician. She is still prostrated from the shock.

VIGOR just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Royal Arcanum.

The executive committee of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum in Boston yesterday, at the conclusion of a three-day meeting, issued a statement describing the functions and authority of the committee, which, it was said, had not met to consider or reconsider the new schedule of rates of assessment adopted by the Supreme Council, as it had "no power or authority to repeal, revoke, amend or alter it in any way."

The statement then continued: "Thoughtful members conversant with our vital statistics and the constantly increasing amount needed to pay death claims and the insufficiency of the amounts collected to pay them realized the absolute and immediate necessity for an increase of rates. The perpetuity of the order demanded that the whole order should at once be put on a permanent and enduring basis, thereby providing sufficient funds to carry the Royal Arcanum for all time and meet all its obligations. This has been done. No increase of rates could be made without creating hardships somewhere. Had our condition not made this radical change a vital necessity not a vote in the supreme council would have been cast in favor of the new law."

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle, with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won and by the use of Electric Bitters. In unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine, to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold, under guarantee to do the same for you, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist, at 50c. a bottle. Try them today.

Found a Cure for Dyspepsia.

Mrs. S. Lindsay, of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, who was suffering quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. She did so and says, "I find that they have done me a great deal of good. I have never had any suffering since I began using them." If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these Tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.
